

JOB TITLE:	Operations Manager
REPORTS TO:	CTO

Unique opportunity for an experienced Operations Manager to join an award-winning Dublin based medical device company developing a platform technology in the lung cancer space. Supervise and lead a team of manufacturing operators, technicians and engineers in a medical device manufacturing and R&D Lab environment. Set up operations systems to support the business. Scale manufacturing and operations systems to meet commercial demand. Key member of senior management team.

What you will do

- In-house manufacturing
- 3rd party contract manufacturing
- Supply chain management
- QMS support CAPA, NCMR
- QC systems development
- Health and Safety
- Calibration and maintenance
- Inventory management
- Test Lab development
- Process development and Process validation

What you need

- 5 years manufacturing experience in a controlled medical device environment or similar
- 5 years Process/systems development experience
- Bachelor of Engineering/science discipline
- Medical Device, Life Sciences and/or Engineering background
- People management and team building experience
- Manufacturing build schedules development and execution

Benefits

- Opportunity to bring a new medical device to market to benefit patients, clinicians and healthcare systems.
- Competitive salary with bonus and significant opportunity to partake in company share-options scheme.
- Working within a high-performance team and Board with many years' experience in both start-up and multinational environment making a great career development opportunity.
- Travel opportunities.
- Exposure to international clinical key opinion leaders and clinical sites.
- Interaction with large medical device network.

---

The contents of this document are confidential and are not to be reproduced or made available to third parties without prior consent from Selio Medical and are not to be used in any unauthorised way